

Christopher Newport University Football Stadium

Newport News, Virginia

In the summer of 2001 Christopher Newport University added a collegiate football program. A 3100 seat stadium was requested and the Project Team delivered the football field and stadium seating in time for the opening of the 2001 season. A press box, luxury suites and elevator were added in 2002.

The scope of work for McKinney and Company included Structural, Mechanical, and Electrical Engineering. McKinney and Company worked closely with the Project Team and the University to expedite the design and construction of the stadium to accommodate the opening of the 2001 football season.
